PASCAL MINAULT IS APPOINTED CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER OF BOUYGUES ENTREPRISES FRANCE-EUROPE

Pascal Minault has been named as the new Chief Executive Officer of Bouygues Entreprises France-Europe, the Bouygues Construction entity made up of subsidiaries operating in the building sector in France, excluding the Paris region, and adjacent European countries (€2,283 million of sales and 5,650 employees in 2013).

Bouygues Entreprises France-Europe consists of Pertuy Construction, GFC Construction, DV Construction, GTC Construction (French West Indies), Quille Construction, Norpac, Bouygues Belgium (Belgium), Losinger Marazzi (Switzerland), Richelmi (Monaco) and Acieroïd (Spain), along with the Cirmad property development network. All these businesses take charge of projects from the phases of property development, financing and design right through to completion. Working in close proximity to their customers, they benefit from a strong policy of synergy: pooling of material resources, common purchasing structures and training centres, and networks of competence specialising in healthcare, universities, prisons, etc.

Pascal Minault will report to Philippe Bonnave, Deputy Chief Executive Officer of Bouygues Construction.

Pascal Minault, aged 51, holds diplomas from the Ecole Polytechnique, the Ecole Nationale des Ponts et Chaussées and the Collège des Ingénieurs. He joined the Bouygues Group in 1986 and began his career working on civil works projects in Hong Kong, subsequently transferring to the building sector in France. After being involved in the major project of the TGV viaducts in Avignon, Pascal was appointed Head of Civil Works at Norpac (Northern France) in 1998. In 2002, he became CEO of Bouygues UK in London, also taking over as Chairman of the subsidiary in 2007. Since 2008, he has served as CEO and Managing Director of Losinger Marazzi, Bouygues Construction's subsidiary in Switzerland (approx. CHF 800 million of sales and 800 employees in 2013).
